

Duplicate Accounts

Generally, Young Living does not permit any member to have financial interest in more than one account. If a member has financial interest in more than one account, the newly created account is considered a duplicate account.

The following are permitted situations as long as each member is managing his or her own account, sales organization, and/or form of payment:

- A parent and a child who is over the age of 18.
- Spouses whose accounts were created prior to being married (legal or common law).
- Unmarried individuals who live in the same household.

The following are not allowed to have separate accounts:

- A husband and wife (legal or common law) whose accounts were created after their marriage.
- A business and the business owner, manager, or spouse of the business owner.
- A parent and an 18-or-older child when the parent manages the account, sales organization, and/or form of payment.
- A parent and a child under 18.
- A member managing an account for an unrelated member who is not willing or able to manage his or her own account, sales organization, and/or form of payment.
- A member and an additional account with the member's maiden/married name.
- A member and a corporation, trust, co-operation, or other business entity controlled or owned by the member.

If a retail customer would like to enroll as a member, please have him or her contact Member Services to upgrade the membership rather than creating an additional account.

If Young Living becomes aware of a duplicate account, it will terminate the newly created account. You may email duplicates@youngliving.com if you have a duplicate account you would like to resolve or if you notice a duplicate account within a Young Living organization. Young Living has a team dedicated to making sure that such accounts are corrected and to educate members on this policy. For more information on this policy, please see section our section titled "Same Household Sales Organizations and Duplicate Accounts" of the Young Living Policies & Procedures. Thank you for your understanding and adherence to this important policy.
